About Leslie Tay

Leslie is an accomplished voice teacher and opera singer who studied at the Manhattan School of Music. His voice students consistently score Distinctions in singing exams and televised local singing competitions. Leslie has sung in many operas and musicals both locally and in USA. Leslie is also on the Voice faculty at School of the Arts (SOTA).

Acappella Anonymous, also known as AA, is a vocal sextet focused on bringing the sophisticated jazz sounds of the 40s to the modern age.

Have you seen shows like Glee and Pitch Perfect where actors sing in perfect harmony and without instrumental accompaniment? This is a cappella singing, a style of singing which originated in Europe around the late 15th century AD and has since traversed continents and time. A cappella is all about bringing people together, finding harmony, balance and beauty in both music and life. It is also about the flexibility and creativity of the human voice be it beatboxing, doo-wop or barbershop quartet singing. Join Leslie Tay and Acappella Anonymous and give your vocal cords a workout as they introduce the different elements of a cappella singing as well as the joys of making music as a family.
