

Open Call for Arts Spaces Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

Section 1: Eligibility and Application Process

1. Can artists, arts group and arts organisations of different art forms apply for the arts spaces?

Interested applicants may refer to the Open Call Information Pack for more information on Aliwal Arts Centre (AAC) and Goodman Arts Centre (GAC). Artists and arts groups who are aligned with the Arts Centres' vision are welcome to apply.

Applicants will be assessed based on the merit of their submission in relation to the criteria as stated in the Information Pack. Arts House Limited (AHL) and National Arts Council (NAC) will take into consideration the desired arts tenancy mix compatible with the Arts Centre's vision, the space requirements of the applicants and their fit with the respective positioning of the arts properties.

2. If I am a new arts group, can I apply?

Yes, new arts groups are welcome to apply for arts spaces in this Open Call exercise under the Framework for Arts Spaces (FFAS). Under FFAS, young artists, new arts companies, associations and societies, community/amateur arts groups within the first 3 years of practice or establishment will be considered under the Incubation Scheme of the FFAS. You may refer to the Open Call Information Pack for full details of the Incubation Scheme.

3. Can current NAC arts tenants apply for the arts spaces under this Open Call?

Existing NAC arts tenants receiving support under the Arts Housing Scheme (AHS) may consider applying in this Open Call exercise. For background information on the FFAS, please refer to the link.

Existing NAC arts tenants receiving support under the FFAS may also apply in this Open Call exercise. Successful applicants currently under the Scheme for Developing Artists and Arts Groups will receive an offer based on their remaining 9-year tenure. In other words, applying to a different arts centre does not reset the 9-year tenure. Thus, successful applicants will need to cease their existing lease and take on the new lease offered for the allocated arts centre. This must be done within three months from the date of signing their new tenancy agreement under this Open Call.

Current tenants who are in the final of the final year of their 9-year FFAS tenure may also apply (hereafter referred to as "re-applicants"), and if successful, they will be offered a 3-year non-renewal lease term, and enjoy a 50% rental subvention, subjected to a cap.

4. What does Co-Tenancy mean? How does it apply to me?

Co-tenancy refers to two or more artists/groups submitting a joint application for a single space. In anticipation of a potential oversubscription of interest, AHL and NAC is encouraging applicants to team up for Co-Tenancy application. Part-time artists and arts groups, may benefit from a team up in terms of managing the overall financial affordability. Artists with different time usage patterns are also encouraged to team up to better utilise the arts studios. To offer greater support to more artists/ arts groups, co-tenancy applications will be considered favourably, all else being equal.

5. Will submitting multiple applications by each co-tenant increase our chances of success?

Co-tenancy applications are evaluated based on the main applicant's submission. We ask that you determine whom will be the most appropriate as the lead tenant, focus resources, collaborate and put together one strong and cohesive application.

6. Does AHL or NAC provide assistance in finding a co-tenant if I am unable to find one myself?

While AHL or NAC does not directly assist in finding co-tenants, we encourage applicants to search for suitable co-tenants who are aligned with their space planning/ usage needs to ensure a compatible working environment for all parties.

7. Can I apply for two units or more under the Open Call?

To ensure that the infrastructural support provided by NAC benefits more artists and arts groups, applicants are limited to applying for one unit under the Open Call. However, AHL and NAC reserves the right to allocate more than one unit to arts groups who are able to justify with compelling reason(s).

If you have compelling reasons to utilise more than one unit, please provide justification for your spatial needs in the "Additional Remarks" field.

8. One of the assessment criteria under FFAS is on financial needs. How will applicants be assessed?

NAC's FFAS is inclined towards helping artists/ arts groups who are in greater need for arts spaces support. Hence, all else being equal, applicants with higher financial needs will be assessed favourably. Their financial needs for support will be objectively verified with supporting official documentation.

Arts groups are expected to provide the latest audited Income and Expenditure statements (full document) to support their applications.

Artists who apply as individuals will need to provide AHL and NAC with their latest IRAS notice of assessment.

These financial documents are necessary for AHL and NAC to assess the artists/ arts groups financial needs for support. Applications with omission of supporting financial documents will render applications as being incomplete, and will not be considered.

Note however that financial needs are only part of the assessment criteria. AHL and NAC also takes into consideration the efforts that the applicants put in to achieve long term financial sustainability.

9. Will all individual artists who are currently under FFAS need to provide financial needs documentations?

Yes. All applicants who wish to apply for a space under FFAS are to submit the latest IRAS Notice of Assessment (NOA). If applicants are not required to pay tax, they should complete the online declaration form and submit the IRAS Letter of No-Filing Service (NFS).

The documentation is necessary as – AHL and NAC is committed to ensuring that all applications are assessed fairly and equitably, hence relevant supporting documents from all applicants will be required. This is not a new requirement, as arts groups have been submitting their financial statements to NAC in their applications. Moreover, this is also in accordance with comparable existing statutory board practices to ensure that the support can be matched to financial needs. For example, MOE's Financial Assistance Scheme would require self-employed applicants to provide CPF transaction statement/ contribution history for the past 12 months.

10. My group is a collective and we don't have company financial statements. What documentations would AHL and NAC require?

All members of collective are to submit their individual latest IRAS NOA. If applicants are unemployed or are not required to pay tax, they should complete the online declaration form (please refer to Question 9). The Collective is obliged to collate all submissions from members, to support their application for the Open Call exercise.
